

48th European Presidents' Conference 2020 in Vienna

A.I.G.L.I. Report January 2020

The topic “Democracy and Rule of Law - Keeping up to Pressure” was involved in a conference that AIGLI organized in September 2019, in which the speakers underlined that the Rule of Law works through the contents and the enforcement of the Law, but also through the form and language used correctly in the Law.

The correct use of the language is also a means of communication in the Law. It gives clarity to meaning.

It facilitates citizens' understanding.

It helps Democracy.

Furthermore, in 2019, since the last Presidents' Conference, AIGLI went on with its intra-country analysis of hot topics relevant to jurists all over the world.

In fact, AIGLI has held a meeting in Milano on 17-18 May 2019, titled “Punitive damages”. In this meeting, the reports came from the United States of America and from Italy, plus a report from Great Britain aimed to inform also about the Brexit and its effects on the international contracts.

Then AIGLI has held the 32nd Annual Conference in September 2019, at Monopoli (Bari, Puglia), where speakers and associates discussed about “Blockchain and Smart Contract”.

AIGLI has seen the publication of the works of its previous Annual Conference about “The personal data protection” on the journal “Diritto Comunitario e degli Scambi Internazionali”.

Meanwhile, the periodical Bulletin addressed to AIGLI members continues to be published, containing articles on various topics.
