2025 REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT

European Presidents Conference
Vienna, February 2026

Dear Colleagues, Dear Friends,

I have the pleasure to present to you the Report on the activities of the AEA-EAL in 2025.

It was a busy year for our Association. AEA-EAL organized and co-organized numerous conferences and webinars, continued the Mentoring Program, our representatives attended various events as speakers or guests. I would like to extend my heartfelt gratitude to the Immediate Past President, Mrs. Maria Ślązak, and the board members for their unwavering trust and efforts, which have greatly contributed to the professional advancement of lawyers worldwide.

The AEA-EAL was co-organizer of two large international conferences – one in Tbilisi, Georgia on the Convention for the Protection of the profession of lawyers and the second in Gdansk, Poland regarding the environmental. We also organized various events, and engaged in joint initiatives as well as continuing ongoing projects.

Hereby I would like to thank all our members and friends for their contribution in the works of our organization.

David Asatiani

President

AEA-EAL signed the MoU with the New York State Bar Association (NYSBA)

On 28 April, 2025 the European Association of Lawyers (AEA-EAL) and the New York State Bar Association (NYSBA) signed the Memorandum of Understanding to formalize a partnership, which will provide a framework for the members of the two associations to share information on issues such as trade, environmental justice, and human rights.

NYSBA was represented by the President Domenick Napoletano, as well as Jay Safer and Giorgi Tshekhaniani, while AEA-EAL was represented by the President David Asatiani and the Immediate Past President Maria Ślązak.

This MOU represents a shared commitment to fostering international collaboration, promoting the rule of law, and supporting professional development opportunities for legal professionals across jurisdictions.

Alternative Dispute Resolution Conference 2025!

LAWASIA, in collaboration with The Law Society of Singapore, successfully presented the Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) Conference 2025, held on 22–23 May 2025. The Conference provided an in-depth exploration of the evolving role of ADR in today's dynamic legal landscape, bringing together leading practitioners, academics, and policymakers from across jurisdictions.

The AEA-EAL participated in the event as a Supporting Partner.

International Scientific-Practical Conference “The Human Rights Lawyers’ Movement and the Council of Europe Convention for the Protection of the Profession of Lawyer: Theoretical Aspects, Best Practices, and New Challenges” was Held in Vilnius, Lithuania

On June 20, 2025, a high-level scientific-practical conference titled “The Human Rights Lawyers’ Movement and the Convention on the Protection of the Profession of Lawyer: Theoretical Aspects, Best Practices, and New Challenges.” was held in Vilnius, Lithuania. The conference brought together leading legal professionals, scholars, and institutional representatives from across Europe both in person and online.

The event was dedicated to advancing discourse surrounding the recently adopted Council of Europe Convention for the Protection of the Profession of Lawyer, placing particular emphasis on its significance, implementation mechanisms, and implications for the independence and safety of lawyers within member states.

Distinguished speakers included Mr. David Asatiani, President of the Association Européenne des Avocats (AEA-EAL), Mrs. Maria Ślązak, Immediate Past President of the Association, and Mr. Nielson Sánchez-Stewart, Vice President of AEA-EAL, each of whom contributed valuable perspectives on the evolving challenges and responsibilities facing the legal profession.

The Conference concluded with a strong reaffirmation of the critical importance of upholding the independence and security of the legal profession as a cornerstone of democratic societies and the rule of law.

President of the European Association of Lawyers (AEA-EAL) Delivered a Speech at Tashkent Law Spring 2025

David Asatiani, President of the European Association of Lawyers (AEA-EAL), delivered a speech at the fourth edition of the Tashkent Law Spring, a leading international legal forum held annually in Uzbekistan, gathering legal professionals, academics, and business representatives from over 40 countries.

Speaking on the topic "Digital Advocacy: Overcoming Geographical and Legal Barriers," Mr. Asatiani explored the profound impact of digital transformation on the legal profession and the need to adapt while safeguarding core values of justice.

Highlighting the structural changes within the profession, President Asatiani pointed to the growing use of e-Justice systems - including digital case management, remote hearings, and electronic document exchange - which have enhanced efficiency and broadened access to justice, particularly in remote areas.

He also emphasized both the opportunities and risks associated with new technologies, including artificial intelligence: "While innovation expands our capabilities, it also raises ethical and regulatory challenges. We must ensure that independence, confidentiality, and professional integrity remain uncompromised in the digital age."

Mr. Asatiani reaffirmed AEA-EAL's commitment to guiding its members through this transformation and stressed the importance of coordinated international efforts to develop common standards for legal tech.

Convention for the Protection of the Profession of Lawyer

AEA-EAL continued to actively promote the the Council of Europe Convention for the Protection of the Legal Profession, highlighting its importance as a cornerstone for safeguarding the independence and security of lawyers across Europe.

In 2024, AEA-EAL was represented in the work of the CDCJ Committee of Experts and Observers on the Protection of the Profession of a Lawyer (CJ-AV) through Ms Maria Slazak, who participated as an expert and observer. This engagement enabled AEA-EAL to contribute to the discussions and to remain directly involved in the Convention's development at the Council of Europe level.

Election of new Member of the Board of Directors

On July 10, 2025, the Annual General Assembly of the European Association of Lawyers (AEA-EAL) was held, during which a new member of the Board of Directors was elected. Mr. Michał Widawski, Attorney at Law (Radca Prawny) and member of the Gdańsk Bar Association of Attorneys at Law (Poland), has joined the Board of AEA-EAL.
